Objektbeschrijving:

In the oldest part of the popular village of Alaró, on the outskirts of the Tramuntana Mountain Range, you will find this fantastic newly built village house facing south.

Its genial wooden construction and insulation promises an optimal room climate with a high level of energy efficiency. This will be accompanied by best-quality, natural materials including stone and high-grade wood in both the internal and external areas. The very well-conceived interior design offers an open spatial concept in the entrance area which smoothly merges with the living/dining area and the kitchen with cooking island. An eye-catcher at the entrance is the lovely open staircase made of solid red-pine wood. A few steps separate the entrance area with access to the garage and a guest WC from the living area. Large sliding glass elements allow the entry of ample natural light into the living room, and provide unobstructed views of the natural-stone terrace which seamlessly blends with the adjoining pool.

On the upper level there are 3 spacious bedrooms and 2 bathrooms, one of which is en suite. All bedrooms have fitted wardrobes and are light-flooded due to floor-to-ceiling windows.

Further features of this high-quality, newly-built, very modern house include double-glazed windows of red pinewood, Iroko-wood window blinds, natural-stone floors on the ground floor and terrace/pool area, micro-cement on the upper level, underfloor heating throughout the house with air-heat pump, centralised air conditioning etc.

Top-design, natural materials and high-quality products speak for themselves! Come and be convinced with a viewing of this exceptional property!
